

Holocaust Awareness Museum and Education Center

A Professional Development Trip for Teachers

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 2019

Visit the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's newest exhibition "The United States and the Holocaust"

Americans had access to reliable information about the Nazi regime's persecution of Jews at it happened, but most could not image that a mass murder campaign was possible. Though most Americans sympathized with the plight of European Jews, assisting refugees and rescuing the victims of Nazism never became a national priority.
